In an effort to understand what lies behind the CLC, a group of our own brothers who felt constrained to part ways with us, and also in an effort to re-capture the particular history of a congregation now "related" to this writer, the following paper has taken shape. The writer has sought to make the paper an accurate and running account of events, developments, and courses of action taken by those involved.

Because it is felt that a proper understanding of backgrounds and events-at-large serves to explain and clarify the oftentimes confusing and seemingly random maze of details, this paper is constructed so as to lead the reader from the general to the more specific—the facts of the one serving to enlighten and bolster the facts of the other.

Please note the names following which shall come up again in the paper (men who eventually constituted the minority):

1953: Pastor Hallstein of Raymond, SD, leaves the WELS for conscience on charges of unionism (first in Synod to do so). President Albrecht settles the troubles in Raymond. His notes for the meeting in Raymond state: "If he [Hallstein] was sure . . . he should have admonished us, not only once or twice, but many times."

1953 (Dec 13) M. Eibs installed at St. John's, Mazeppa Twp.

1954 (Apr 4) L. Grams installed at Faulkton and Ipswich (near Bowdle).

1955 (Aug 10-17) President Albrecht in attendance at Synod Saginaw Convention. He becomes increasingly dissatisfied with the Synod's failure to break with LCMS. Although only advisory delegate, had name recorded in protest when vote to wait until 1956 prevailed.

1956 (Jul 17-19) Dakota-Montana District convention at "obridge. Meeting held one month late, so as to consider results of LCMS action in June. Resolution passed that Synod adopt 1953 recommendations to break ties.

1957 (Jun) Eastern Conference of Dakota-Montana District draws up memorial to be presented to Synod at New Ulm Convention, 1957, asking for termination of fellowship with LCMS.

1957 (Aug 7-14) New Ulm votes to "continue to hold in abeyance" President Albrecht objects and takes emphatic action. Presents statement of protest; resigns post on Union Committee; refuses to co-operate on this matter; refuses fellowship with those advocating this action.

1957 (---) Perhaps a "minority group" begins evolving at this time.

Albrecht, opcit., p. 12.

1957 (Oct 22) Special District Convention in Aberdeen. President Albrecht presents a strong case for district opposition to Synod action. Underlying feeling that entire District ought to break with Synod. However, the convention votes to concur with Synod Action. In that light Pres. Albrecht delivers a resignation from presidency. Convention rejects his resignation and requests that he continue to serve "according to the dictates of his own conscience." He could not give an answer immediately. (Never resigned.)

1959 (Jun 29) Letter from Minority group to District Praesidium stating that their action was not to organize a separate conference, but to discuss common feelings; that they had never severed fellowship with District at large; that their memorial (E. 1959-1960 Minority Group by this time must evidently have been associating itself with Interim Conference.

1960 (May 19-19) Impasse reached.

1960 (Jun 21-23) District Convention at Mobridge. Pres. Schumann reports: "In impatience action . . . minority group within district by word and action indicated a termination of fellowship with our District and Synod." (Approx. 500 communicants)

1959 (Mar 8) Pastor Eibs announces that he has received a Call to Winner, Neb., and Witten, SD.

1959 (Mar 16) Joint meeting of Rauville and Mazeppa. Pastor presents ultimatum: "If you want me to serve as your Pastor . . . " then (minutes summarized) --
1. Accept what I teach according to God’s Word.
2. If disagree, prove where I am wrong from Bible.
3. District and Synod have rejected my protests; I am bound to stand up for the truth.
4. Join protesters
   a. Act according to Bowdle resolutions
   b. Sign E. Schaller memorial
   c. Withhold mission money from Synod
   d. Sever fellowship with LCMS as a congregation
   e. Sever fellowship with WELS in August if Synod does not move to break.

Concerning agreement with above statements, congregation votes 20-No, 12-"es, 11-blank, 1-wait. In effect they answer Pastor Eibs' question, "If you want me to serve as your Pastor . . . " Eibs requests time to consider his call. Time granted. "With a resounding, 'No!'"

Issue a new call to Rev. Eibs
Extend the old call Call a new pastor"

Pastor is shown note.

19 Ibid., April 16, 1979.
1959 (April 16) Council Meeting. Pres. Steinocker states that he acted alone in setting up meeting. Pastor Elbs reminds group that is is "against the constitution for individuals or minor bodies within the congregation to make decisions without the authority of the congregation or pastor" (1). Passages read from Catechism and quotes from other books.

1959 (Apr 19) Pastor Elbs announces that he has withdrawn from the WELS because of their failure to term, fellowship with LCMS.

(Apr 19) Joint meeting, evening. The parish has a problem of what to do about a pastor. Elbs has officially been released and a vacancy pastor called. No doubt, many did not want Elbs back under any circumstances. Evidence of conflict in minutes. In the end a motion prevails to ask Pres. Schumann for a new call list. Thus, in effect, Pastor Elbs is left in mid-air. When requested to continue to serve Mazeppa and Auville until a new pastor arrives (in reality, an inconsistent request), Elbs rightfully refuses, but by stating that it is "because the vote of the congregations had wrongfully deposed him" (1). At that point Pastor Elbs' services to Mazeppa and Auville ceased.

1959 (Apr 20) Mazeppa makes arrangements with Pastor Kell of Bethlehem of Watertown, for services.

1959 (May 4) Joint meeting. Pres. Schumann meets with congregations concerning call for new pastor. He advises that it would be best to call a student. To call from the field would take a great deal of time because, as the minutes read, "No pastor would very likely come to South Dakota because the aroma is not good." Congregations vote to apply for candidate.

(May 4) After Joint Meeting, Pres. Schumann meets with Mazeppa concerning a vacancy pastor. According to the March 29 meeting, C. Albrecht had been called as v.p. Schumann points that "Albrecht is not with Synod any more." Thereupon, much discussion, especially by O. Noeldner and G. Dumann. (Summary of minutes follows):

Dumann--Has C. Albrecht resigned officially?
Schumann--Albrecht has stated that it was impossible for him to go along with Synod, because of not obeying Ro 16:17-18.
Noeldner--Why is this action of Albrecht and others called un-Scriptural?
Schumann--They are using only Ro 16:17-18 and Ti 3:10. There are other passages to be used.

20 From the parish, he moved to Eagle Lake, Minn., (near Mankato) where he did not serve a parish, but was soon called to serve a group (mission) in St. Paul, Minn., later named Berea Lutheran and a member of the CLC. ("New Address," Lutheran Spokesman, II (October, 1959), p. 11.)
Noeldner--Is the LCMS causing divisions and offenses? Schumann--Yes, and they will probably never come clean. However, beware of overdoing Ro 16:17-18.

Noeldner--Is it a sin to break with WELS?
Schumann--No, but why are you (or anyone else with such leanings) here tonight? Get out and follow those pastors!

Dumann--Is C. Albrecht being accused of false doctrine?
Schumann--Minutes give no direct answer. That was their doing. They pushed themselves into that position.

Congregation acts to rescind Call to C. Albrecht and extirpate a Call to V. Thierfelder of Goodwin ffg Vacancy pastor.

1959 (May 17) Congregation to pay $4.99 expense incurred by Elks for attending a minority conference at Jamestown, ND.

1959 (Jul 12) Candidate Leroy Doberstein ordained and installed at Mazeppa and Rauville.

1959 (Jul) Trinity Lutheran organized in Watertown with 27 voters--former members from Grover and Mazeppa. C. Albrecht later called to be first pastor.21

1959 (Aug 5-12) Synod at Saginaw votes to continue gig. prot. fell.

1959 (Oct 13) Pastor Doberstein clarifies use of terms "release" and "transfer." They mean the same. Written request from O. Noeldner family asking that membership be dissolved.

1960 (Jan) Elmer Dumann family (brother to G. Dumann) dropped from roles because they had joined Trinity in Watertown.

1960 (Jul 8) Pastor Doberstein reports on District Convention (Jun 21-23). States that an impasse has been reached.

1961 (Apr 18) Pastor Doberstein reports concerning LCMS issues. States that a break is unavoidable.

1961 (Aug 8-17) Synod Convention breaks with LCMS.

1961 (Oct) Pastor Doberstein reports on the controversial issues (presumably recent Synod action).

THOUGHTS AND CONCLUSIONS

As one looks back over the record, certain thoughts come to mind. Concerning the District Picture, one cannot help wondering how much of an affect the action for Pastor Hallstein in 1953 had upon President Albrecht. Perhaps this was the seed that began to germinate several years later in his own actions.

Details also are lacking concerning the exact beginning and workings of the minority group. How long was the group in forming? What were its purposes and actions? Did it associate itself with the Interim Conference before April 1959? Such information would help to clarify the action taken by the Synod and the District Praesidium.

Although there is somewhat of a feeling that the minority group got a raw deal in the way in which their termination was handled, one cannot help wondering what other course of action was open to the respective officials. Individuals who refuse fellowship with the men who propose and lead in the adoption of action by the Synod-at-large can hardly be considered to be in fellowship with the body.

One wonders to what extent the personal contact of Professor Lawrenz with Paul Albrecht and company affected the course of events. The lack of love by the latter (or the CLC at large) for the former is obvious.

Although the facts scarcely show it, the real power play in the District came at the special Aberdeen convention in October of 1957. It was here that hopes were high for the entire District to break with the Synod. When such action was prevented by the District's concurrence with Synod action and by when the District did not react, with great upheaval to the resignation of President Albrecht, the beginning of the end was at hand. The events which took place in the spring of 1959 were inevitable.

Concerning Pastor Eibs and St. John's Mazeppa, similar questions arise. Why did Marvin Eibs attend neither Northwestern College nor Wisconsin Lutheran Seminary, but rather come through the Springfield program? His family was Wisconsin Synod from Marshall, Minnesota. 22

One also lacks for details concerning the exact course of events that took place concerning the jumbled state of affairs between Pastor Eibs, St. John's Mazeppa, and the congregations at Winner and Witten. It seems strange timing that Eibs, a member of the minority group, should appear on a call list that spring. Did he actually feel that his hold in Mazeppa congregation was strong enough to issue the ultimatum, "If you want me to be your pastor, join the protest group"? Whose suggestion was it to call C. Albrecht as vacancy pastor? What information led Eibs to change his mind concerning the Call to Winner and Witten? A letter to those congregations would prove to be most helpful. Did Eibs genuinely expect Mazeppa and Rauville to take him back in view of his previous ultimatum? Why did he announce his withdrawal from the Synod on the day of the meeting to reconsider his Call? What was his thinking?

22 Professor Armin Achuetze, in interview with author, March 4, 1979.
Just as the District did not in reality lose a great portion of its members, so also Mazeppa did not lose all that many members—four families. Communicant membership statistics list the drop from 1959 to 1960 as 142 to 130. However, this loss did almost coincidentally mark the beginning of the end for the Mazeppa congregation. Since 1960, due to declining rural population and church amalgamation at South Shore (South Shore and German-town Twp.) with the erection of a new facility, membership has steadily decreased. 1978 communicant membership stood at 68.

"Naturally the records do not show for either the district or the congregation the intense emotion and dissent that was generated by this entire affair. Brother was turned against brother and son against against father. Accusations were made, tact was laost, emotions ran wild. Terms such as "hothead," "brainwashed," and "on the way to hell" were uttered more than once. Only now is time beginning to erase the near-hated fight by the one side for the other.

What has this paper proven? If nothing else, in this author's opinion, it serves to establish the fact that a very definite factor involved in the growth and eventual outcome of the minority split; was a phenomenon called "sphere of influence." The members of the District's minority group can for the most part be closely tied to President Albrecht and as a result quite naturally fell under his influence. Pastor Rutz must have worked closely with President Albrecht, being vice-president of the District, also both were members of the District for many, many years. Christ Albrecht, the President's brother certainly cannot be termed a stranger to him. Eibs and Grams both served at Faulkton and Ipswich which put them geographically very close to President Albrecht and undoubtedly subject to his influence. Concerning Greve and Sippert who came to the District from Washington and Colorado, respectively, it is not at all difficult to surmise that the rumbles of dissent in their own districts had affected them before coming to Dakota-Montana.

Likewise is the case in Razeppa congregation. Ralph Breitzmann had been president of the congregation for three years during Eibs' pastorate, George Dumann and been elders (Elmer was George's brother), and Orville Noeldner had served as trustee and had accompanied Eibs to the District Convention in 1958. (Whereas at Rauville, there was no following. Eibs had only served there two years; it was his "second" congregation.)

Following the "sphere of influence" evidence to its logical end, once can hardly escape the conclusion that were it not for the influence and actions of President Albrecht, there would have been no Minority Split in the Dakota-Montana District.
