INTRODUCTION

Professor Edward C Fredrich in his book, The Wisconsin Synod Lutherans, writes that the Protestant Controversy is "the most turbulent and tragic episode in Wisconsin Synod history begun over three score years ago and still running its course and causing its controversies." But still many don't know much about the Protestant Controversy and which congregations were involved in it.

This paper is an attempt to provide a listing of the congregations in the Wisconsin Synod that were involved in the Protestant Controversy, then and now. It also lists where the Protestant congregations are today. This paper intends to give a point of reference from which to start when studying the Protestant Conference.

The congregations are grouped according to the categories listed in the table of contents. For additional information consult the documented sources and look at the bibliography.
PROTESTANT CONGREGATIONS

ALPINE, CA

New Creation

Joined the Protestant Conference in the late 1980s. New Creation was started as a break off group from Alpine Lutheran (WELS) in Alpine, CA. Pastor Terry Nuckolls was declared not in fellowship with the Wisconsin Synod and removed as pastor of Beautiful Saviour Lutheran Church (WELS) in Carlsbad, CA in November of 1987. Terry Nuckolls had contact with the Protestant Conference as early as February of 1988. There is no Protestant pastor in Alpine. The congregation of under 50 souls is served occasionally throughout the year by Protestant pastors who come to Alpine from their own congregations in the Midwest and stay for a week or so. The rest of the time the lay leadership reads sermons to the congregation from Faith-Life, sermons Protestant pastors may send them, and even have read some sermons of Dr Siegbert Becker (WELS) from The Word Goes On published by Northwestern Publishing House in Milwaukee, WI.

GREEN BAY, WI
St James
St James was formed by people who left St Paul Lutheran (WELS) of Green Bay, WI. Pastor Robert Christman declared his fellowship with the Protestant Conference in November 1980. The congregation has a membership of approximately 200 people and maintains a Lutheran elementary school.

MARION SPRINGS, MI
St John
Pastor Gerhard Ruediger was serving St John when he was called to the Wauwatosa Seminary. He sided with the Protestants and was dismissed from the seminary in 1927. The congregation called him back and he remained as pastor there until he retired in 1959. Joel Hensel currently serves this congregation of about 50 members.

MELROSE, WI
St Paul
St Paul is a daughter congregation of Christ, Burr Oak, WI. The congregation joined the Protestant Conference in 1928 when their Pastor

Martin Zimmermann broke with the Synod.⁴ Pastor Floyd Brand currently serves the approximately 100 souls of St Paul.

MILWAUKEE-WEST ALLIS, WI

In home congregation

This small congregation of about 10 people gathers to meet in a home in the Milwaukee area. Pastor Albert Meier, a former WELS missionary to the Apache in East Fork, AZ, served this congregation which included some second generation Protes'tants. The people who gather to worship in small groups such as this as well as in the other small Protes'tant congregations look forward to worshipping with a larger group of people of the same fellowship when the Protes'tant Conference meets during the year. The beginnings of the West Allis congregation reach back to the 1930s.

PLYMOUTH, MN

Bethany

In the mid-1980s the Protes'tant congregation in Wabasso, MN which was being served by Pastor John Springer, a former Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod elementary school teacher in Ohio, declined in membership. The congregation was unable to support him so he moved to Plymouth, MN, a western suburb of Minneapolis, MN to find employment.

⁴ Western Wisconsin District Report of Documents and Correspondence, 1928, pp 70-71.
He holds worship services in his home. Attendance is about 10 or 12 people. The congregation bears the name of his former congregation in Wabasso.

RICE LAKE, WI

In home congregation

Although the Protestant Conference had a congregation in Rice Lake at the very formation of the conference it (First Lutheran) became a member of the Missouri Synod. In the 1960s Michael Meier, the son of Pastor Albert Meier, came to town. A Protestant congregation was formed and the group consists of about 10 people today.

SHIOCTON, WI

First Lutheran

Pastor Louis E Mielke left the Synod and his flock at First Lutheran in Shiocton followed him. This congregation of approximately 150 souls is being served today by Pastor Gerald Hinz.

VALDERS, WI

Grace

Paul Hensel was the pastor of this congregation and also Trinity in Liberty, WI when he declared his fellowship with the Protes'tants and was put out by the Synod in the 1930s. After he served the congregation his son Philemon Hensel succeeded him and currently serves its approximately 50 members.

PROTES'TANT CONGREGATIONS WHICH ARE NO LONGER IN EXISTENCE

KLONDIKE, WI

Mission congregation

Pastor Philip J Schroeder, one of the first Protes'tants, served a mission congregation in Klondike, WI. He was suspended from the Synod in the late 1920s. The Klondike congregation was even a site for one of the Protes'tants' conferences. Pastor Schroeder accepted back into fellowship with the Synod in the mid 1930s\textsuperscript{7} and went on to be a professor at the LCMS seminary in St Louis.\textsuperscript{8} The congregation appears to have dissolved.

LACROSSE, WI

Faith-Life

In December 1927 the Protestants met in Marshfield, WI. At this meeting they established a treasury, a board, an editorial committee, and a LaCrosse mission.\textsuperscript{9} This mission, which was carried out on both the north and south sides of the city, was headed up by Pastor William Beitz whose conference paper, "God’s Message to Us in Galatians: The Just Shall Live by Faith" was a catalyst for the controversy. When a rift developed within the Protestant Conference in the 1960s, Pastor Beitz left their fellowship and the mission in LaCrosse died out.

NEILLSVILLE, WI

Grace

This congregation was shepherded by Pastor Karl Koehler. He had resigned his professorship at Northwestern College in Watertown, WI because the NWC Board of Control reversed some disciplinary action of the faculty. Pastor John P Koehler also settled in Neillsville with his son Karl after he had been put out by the Synod for siding with the Protestants.

After the Koehlers died the congregation faded away.

OCONOMOWOC, WI

In home congregation

After St Matthew, Oconomowoc returned to the Synod in 1932 a small group of members who declared themselves to be in fellowship with the Protestants met under the guidance of suspended pastor William Haas. The group gradually dwindled and passed from existence.

STURGEON BAY, WI

In home congregation

Often the number of Protestant congregations was less than the number of Protestant pastors. During the Great Depression jobs were scarce so some of the men who were trained to be pastors became farmers. Alex Hillmer, a former missionary among the Apache in Bylas, AZ,\(^\text{10}\) became an organic farmer in Sturgeon Bay, WI. Other Protestants lived in the Sturgeon Bay area and would meet together.

TAUNTON, MN

Bethlehem

Bethlehem, Taunton and St John, Boyd were both served by Pastor Henry Albrecht. When he declared his fellowship with the Protestants the Taunton congregation left the Synod.\textsuperscript{11} In the early 1980s the congregation of about 75-100 members dispersed because they were unwilling to have their Sunday worship services at two o'clock in the afternoon which was the earliest the Protestant pastor from Wabasso could get there.

Zion, Elroy was a dual parish with St Luke, Town of Glendale shepherded by Pastor Paul Lutzke who joined the Protestant Conference in 1928. Pastor William P Hass was one of the first to be put out by the Synod in 1927.\(^{20}\) The congregation reestablished its fellowship with the Synod in 1932\(^{21}\) and installed a new pastor that summer.

PLATTEVILLE, WI

I also consulted the many yearbooks, statistical reports, synod and

I asked Pastor Marcus Albrecht, the editor of _Faith-Life_, for some help in the original stages of my research and he sent me a letter in the men of the Protes'tant Conference.

I called John Springer, the Protes'tant pastor of Bethany,
